Buying a Car? Orlando Has What You Need

What's the biggest factor in choosing the vehicle that you will eventually drive off a lot? Is it price? Make and model? Color? The brand of stereo and number of cupholders?

If you're like many buyers, who have trouble getting financing for a used car because of their bad credit, the most important factor is the availability of financing. When you look at how the different dealers stack up, if you're buying a car Orlando DriveTime dealers have what you need.

Buying a Car, Orlando Style

Orlando is a remarkably spread out community. The Orlando metropolitan area is miles across in all directions, and it takes a lot of time to cover it all. And during the summer months, not many people want to brave the muggy weather to go from dealership to dealership, looking for a car. That's why many Orlando auto shoppers choose to begin their search on the Internet.

It's no surprise that many of those who search online eventually find their way to DriveTime.com. Since DriveTime is more adept than most dealers at providing financing for people with bad credit, bankruptcy, or no credit at all, their online approval process is second to none. People with credit challenges in Orlando, buying a car, can show up at their local DriveTime dealership already approved for financing. How much easier can it get?

Auto Shopping Can Be Easy

If you're a credit challenged person in Orlando, buying a car can be complicated. But it doesn't have to be. Just get approved online now, then visit your local Orlando DriveTime dealer to work out the terms of your loan and choose your car. We carry late-model cars, trucks, vans and SUVs, so you'll be able to find a vehicle that suits your needs and lifestyle.

And just because you have bad credit, it doesn't mean you're going to get stuck with an old clunker. DriveTime carries mainly late-model vehicles. Since we back up our cars with a limited warranty that is virtually unsurpassed by anyone else in the business, we have to stock vehicles that we can be confident in, and that you can rely on. Every car, truck and van we sell must pass an exacting inspection/reconditioning process before it ends up on a DriveTime lot. If it doesn't pass, it never makes it to the DriveTime dealership.

So when buying a car, Orlando drivers who know what's what choose DriveTime as their first and last stop for bad-credit auto financing.
